CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, which have done so much secure the reputation of this stitute, are still adhered to, ording those in need of dical aid, the certainty of e and the utmost confidence. There is nothing of so great portance to the sick as to ow where to find a physis whose skill and humanity e - rance of proper and t treatment. The Doc- ould respectfully call the ention of those of both sexes a suffering or in trouble the invariable success that marked the career of the stitute in the seventeen years e last since.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the mplaints treated at the Inpt, but the Doctor feels it duty to call especial attenn to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, ch it is sapping with its inss the very life of its ims; in the treatment and e of which the Inst tut- has rned so enviable a reputa-that by dwelling upon so unsatisfying subjects as generally vigor through the loss of the and life, the ignorant may be led to apply to point out to those who the true cause of their affliction, how to be freed into abeyance. Rest assured all cases of Seminal Weakness is the result of self-abuse in youth, which devotes his time to the solitary habit, to the destruction of both body and mind, unfitting him for either business or society. This destructive habit can be cured by applying the following appliances, which have been discovered and applied by the Doctor after long and patient study and investigation, and which are unknown to any other physician in the world. This is positively true, as many have tried in vain to obtain the secret from the Doctor, but it is his own private property, and he intends to keep it so. Those who call on the Doctor may rest assured that a perfect cure will be effected in a few days. Secrecy and honor may be relied on. Don't neglect your case, or trifle with some pretender, but call at once on the Doctor, and be cured by the only physician who has ever made a life study of your disease. Remember the Doctor has no partners, and can be found at his office at all hours, from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and from 6 to 8 P. M. Evenings. Who are the "Carpet Baggers"

From the Cincinnati Times.

Senator Abbott of North Carolina has collected the facts with regard to foreign capital in that State. He finds that over $10,000,000 of Northern money have been invested there since the war.—Washington Telegram.

In 1860 and 1866 the amount of Northern money invested in the Southern States was very large. Had there been any guarantee for safety for life or property those investments would have been doubled and trebled and annually and by 1870 there would have been $2,000,000,000 of new capital actively employed in the South to take the place of a like amount lost by the rebellion. But the Southern people do not want peace and prosperity when they have to labor shoulder to shoulder with the Northerner. Owners of plantations of 1,000 acres each without money to hire labor have preferred to let their lands lie idle year after year sooner than sell any portion of the land for cash to a Northern settler or to consider the right of the negro to his wages. White laborers will not migrate to the South. They cannot become owners of the land as they may at the North and the Southern planters and farmers will not hire them. White laborers will not submit to be mastered and the present generation of Southern masters will not learn to treat labor with respect.

The New Orleans riot drove out from Louisiana many millions of Northern capital invested in planting and in commerce and the same murderous policy has also enforced it from West Tennessee leaving Memphis in a state of gradual and rapid decline incident to the withdrawal of capital the retirement of productive labor and the supremacy of idleness and crime.

There was a convention of the planters and farmers of Southwestern Virginia and North Carolina held a few weeks ago at which the sad change in their affairs was duly bewailed. There were present men who counted their lands by the thousands of acres and who confessed that since the war they had hardly raised enough food for their own consumption. They resolved very profoundly to maintain their honor unsullied by never tolerating the negro except as an inferior subject to such legislation as the whites may choose to make that they would not make a contract with the blacks for labor that they would send to Europe for laborers that they would never part with the titles to their lands to strangers but would so guard it that the soil should always be in the possession of Virginians and Carolinians and their descendants forever. These are the people who propose to drive out the scallawags and carpet baggers who have carried their money to the South to invest in commerce, in planting in railroads, in mills, in farm machinery in mining and in all other productive pursuits. The South is languishing for money and capital and when these are carried thither the owners are denounced as carpet baggers, who are to be treated so ills as inteants personally as thieves politically as traitors and generally as persons who ought to be mobbed and hanged. While Northern capital has given employment to perhaps 100,000 Southern persons during the last three years the owners of that capital and their agents have held themselves and families prepared for instant flight to escape such horrors as that of the New Orleans massacre, or the murdering and cowardly visitations of the Ku Klux organization. The election of Grant and Colfax by giving permanency to the civil governments now in operation in those States will afford protection to the lives and property now there, and will give that assurance and confidence which are alone wanting to induce the investment of additional millions of the South. The election of Grant and Colfax will be to the South of incalculable benefit it will lift its industry from the paralysis under which it now lingers and give it new life and vigor resulting in permanent prosperity.

The "Lost Cause."

The following description of the lost cause is from a speech delivered in Congress last July by Horace Maynard of Tennessee. Its philanthropic thought and truthful energy of these paragraphs make them worthy of universal attention.

The lost cause was not alone a sentiment a principle of hostility to the Republican theory of self government taking organic shape in the Southern Confederacy which its second officer declared to be based upon slavery and which one of its leading organs the Richmond Examiner, boldly announced to be a distinct reaction against the civilization of the age. Never walked a fouler spirit upon this planet. Reversing the Roman maxim it spared the strong and waited upon the weak. Old men and children and women men defenseless and alone were its victims. Prisoners were hanged and pillaged and then put to death under the prolongation of torture. The pathetic sanctity of the grave was disdained and trinkets were whittled from the bones of the slain.

Boasting of chivalry and of a finer honor than belonged to the rest of the country it demonstrated beyond cavil that its honor was a sham and that its chivalry lacked every virtue and every grace belonging to the semi civilized institution it affected to imitate. Its prison pens at Montgomery Andersonville Salisbury, Libby, Castle Thunder and Belle Isle have become historic to the relief of the Jersey pits in ship and the Black Hole of Calcutta. It idolized military heroes who displayed the acquirements of the bandit thief and pickpocket and neglected those of real merit. Its old-fashioned civil rulers both dishonest and incapable understood neither the obstacles to be overcome nor the means at their command. Never did men engaged in the great work they pretended to exhibit such poverty of thought. Not a State paper exists worthy being read. Not a lofty sentiment or a generous appeal not a noble or ringing manimous defiance was ever uttered. There was neither grandeur in victory nor pathos in defeat. Eloquence attempted no successful flights poetry felt no inspiration. Music had none but borrowed melodies art furnished neither statues nor pictures and literature not a line to be remembered.

Such was the lost cause in its heyday as it appeared to all but the deluded women and youth who decked its hideousness in the hues of their own gaudy imaginations. Of such are not the kingdoms of earth. Nations are not constructed of so base material. Well is it called the lost cause just as we speak of a lost woman, a lost spirit a lost soul. So understood it is no paradox that it abides direful portentous a power for evil in the land. Hardly had it recovered from the first craven fear of hanging and confiscation which followed the defeat of its arms before it renewed the same vile practices which marked its progress from the outset. Clothed by the mistaken clemency of the Executive with local authority, it forebore hostility toward the Government and the Northern people indeed, but exhausted its virulence upon objects at home, the emancipated and enfranchised colored people the white unionist and persons of Northern birth especially settlers since the war or, to borrow its own dialect the niggers the scallawags and the carpet baggers.

The Detroit Tribune says: Here from the Democrat have by [illegible] that it had to [illegible] in the South. Now they [illegible] that it was remembers in the South than [illegible] to have.

There is no doubt in the [illegible] New York will [illegible] in two [illegible] Lexington and Pittsburgh and three towns—Lee Epping and Nottingham.

Letter from Hon. J. S. Carlile—Why he Supports General Grant

I the editors of the Baltimore American. My attention has been called to the publication in your paper of my letter to General Kelly and some surprise expressed at its contents. I have from considerations pure and to myself delayed any publication of my reasons for the conclusions to which I have arrived. I now can only hint at a few.

I have not been in the strict sense of the word a party man. My chief object in public life has been the maintenance of the Union under the Constitution. The Union of the States and the rights of the States as secured by the Constitution have been my motto and to the preservation of that Union and the maintenance of those rights have all my efforts as a public man as well as private citizen been directed. I have long been of the opinion and still believe that partisan politics have been and still are the bane of the Republic. With the death of Andrew Jackson the Democratic party ceased to be guided by principle, and gradually became sectionalized. The declaration of Jackson "The Federal Union it must and shall be preserved" was discarded, and a Southern Confederacy openly advocated and threatened. Sectionalism assumed the phase of and was substituted for patriotism.

Regarding as I always have my party obligations as of less binding force than the obligations I owe to my country I have often subjected myself to the charge of inconsistency. To occupy such a position is no light or trifling matter. It requires much more moral courage to subject oneself to such a charge and to the denunciations and detraction that always attend it than at first blush may be supposed necessary. The secession Convention in Virginia and the results that followed immediately upon the adoption of secession exhibit a fearful want of moral courage.

I believed then and still believe that if a dozen members of that convention from as many different sections of the State had taken the course and labored as I did the State could have been saved from the terrible effects of secession. As it was, my section alone was saved and it now a State of the Union. In that trying hour I adhered to my motto, and as I was the first in the Convention so openly and boldly denounce the heresy of secession so was I the first in Congress to denounce the policy of Congress that was subsequently adopted when it was foreshadowed by a Senator since gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. My remarks upon that occasion are reported in the Globe of the 16th of December 1861.

My opposition to Radicalism is well known. That I would have saved the Union party from it if it had been in my power is also well known. So great was my opposition to the ultraism of Congressional legislation and so sincere my convictions that rather than abate the one or surrender the other I gave up my place in the Senate and for a time lost the confidence of my Union friends. I had heard and expected that the action of the New York Convention would have entitled its nominee to the support of Conservative Union men. Had its members pledged themselves to the maintenance of the right of local self-government in the States as secured by the Constitution and nominated as their Presidential candidate a man of undoubted Unionism who believed in the right of the government to protect itself and enforce its lawful authority I should have voted for its nominees. This was not done. On the contrary it is my opinion Hendricks was defeated because he is not a believer in the right of secession. The war record of Hancock defeated him. Mr Vallandigham's patriotism nominated Seymour and crushed the aspirations of the Chief Justice. The friends of the lost cause triumphed over the Unionism of the convention and the strife of the battle field is to be renewed to be fought out at the ballot box. As much as I am opposed to the Radical legislation of the last six years I am opposed to disunion. So long as we are one people vicious legislation may be corrected even constitutional amendments may be abolished and constitutional liberty preserved but once divided into separate States under different governments liberty and prosperity peace and good government are lost forever. Grant will receive no support from Secessionists or their sympathizers they are all to be found in the ranks of the party supporting Mr Seymour. The conservatism of Republicanism nominated Grant. The radicalism of Democracy nominated Seymour.

If the Supreme Court shall decide as the Democracy hold it will decide next winter, the reconstruction legislation of Congress unconstitutional it will doubtless be for the reason among others that the State has the right free from Congressional interference or Executive dictation to frame for itself its own constitution provided it be republican in form. If this be so the governments created by the constitutions of the seceded States under the laws of Congress are nullities and have no legal existence. The Governments created under Executive dictation must share the same fate and these States will be remitted back to the governments created by the constitutions adopted by each after the passage of their several ordinances of secession and the repudiation of their allegiance to the Constitution of the United States. In this situation with no Executive who thinks with the late President Buchanan that the Government of the United States cannot use force against the people of a seceded State to compel obedience to its lawful authority will not disunion be a fact accomplished and will not the war have been fought in vain? It is not possible in the limits allowed by the press to communicate this thought to do more that briefly refer to a few considerations that have brought my mind to the conclusion to which I have arrived. I may have occasion before the election to enter fully upon the vindication of my proposed action. This if done I shall do before the people who have heretofore honored me with their confidence.

One of the worst exhibitions of partisan hate in the canvass is found in the recent speech of Howell Cobb of Georgia. The door is are wide open wide enough and broad enough to receive every white man in Georgia unless you should discover him [illegible] coming to you creeping and crawling under the Chicago platform. Upon them there should be no mercy. They have dishonored themselves and no sought to disgrace your. Anathematize them. Drive them from the pale of social and political society. This Howell Cobb or Gin Cobb as he is called is a paroled prisoner paroled by the mercy of Gen Grant and has never been exchanged.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.—It will be remembered that for some while before the opening of the campaign of 1864 in various elections the Democrats were triumphant. Their success was attributed to the Emancipation Proclamation and no doubt with good reason. But soon the necessity as well as justice of this measure became apparent and with it overwhelming defeats to the Democracy during the campaign of 1864. History repeats itself. Owing to the negro suffrage question Democrats for the past two years have triumphed in a few elections, but the necessity and justice of conferring the ballot box privilege upon the negroes South is becoming apparent and as the campaign for 1868 opens we are greeted by Republican victories wherever elections are held. Discovery of a Secret Armed Organization in Missouri

ST. LOUIS, August 24.

A Democratic conspiracy in the form of a secret armed organization for the purpose of carrying the State for Seymour and Blair, has been discovered here. The Democrat to-morrow morning will publish all the documents which are known to exist in connection with the [illegible] says editorially:

We have before us the papers of a recent secret organization of Democrats, the purpose of which is to overpower the Government and to trample into dust the law. In this State the immediate point of attack is the loyal Government and the law excluding rebels from suffrage. In the Southern States it aims at the overthrow of existing State governments. In both it is composed mainly of rebels and is a compact military organization and though its name differs and different States all the branches are closely in connection. Whether it has yet any existence in a Northern State we cannot positively say. At the South it works actively by the [illegible] of leading Republicans. In this State a few mysterious murders have occurred, and in several localities we have proof that lists of Republicans to be removed at the earliest [illegible] have been made. But its first object here is to carry the election by force, if by strife. To this end, a picked band of men, limit in number as to be organized in every locality. It is a military organization in every [illegible]. Its purposes are concealed even from the great body of the Democrats, for no Democrat not a member is allowed to be present at any [illegible] or roll call. Its members are bound by an oath to obey the orders of their leaders, and every company is required to meet every day for roll call to send constant reports of the force and to keep the force up to the full number. Between companies and squadrons as between headquarters here and in other States there is constant communication, but in all such papers the nature and objects of the organization are carefully concealed. These papers, however, for the sake of secrecy have been signed and sent by different persons in this city, whose names were taken for the occasion, but the proper [illegible] ities have been informed of them. The objects of the organization shows that no lawful effort to carry the State is

Relations of Oregon and California

A California journal laments that the people of that State and of this do not understand each other and that some little acerbity of feeling is the consequence of this want of acquaintance. Now we beg to remark that Oregon understands California tolerably well and that if California has not a like knowledge of Oregon it is because she prefers to not understand us. We do not complain of the disposition which California manifests to ridicule everything which pertains to Oregon, we are not mortified to observe that many of the people of that State make a show of ignorance of this, and pretend to think that it would be vulgar to know anything about us. We suffer no vexation when we find them affecting to regard us a rude, illiterate people, whose greatest need is a missionary from an enlightened community like California. This is snobbery which the people of Oregon can afford to laugh at. San Francisco is California, and San Francisco, like some other cities, must maintain its smartness by talking lightly of what it calls its provincial or bucolic neighbors. It must not be acquainted with any body not in its circle of society, it must have a poor opinion of every one who does not follow its fashions, speak its dialect, put on its knowing look, or imitate its cockney like ways. Aping the example of San Francisco, the remainder of California looks upon Oregon with San Francisco eyes, and talks about Oregon in San Francisco style. All this has its origin in the weakness of human nature. It is uncultivated egotism, raised by petroleum and shoddy out of its legitimate sphere. We do not expect anything better from California until she gets older and wiser. In the due course of time her vanity will be softened her views will grow more liberal, and she will come to the conclusion that it is not inconsistent with her self respect to show a spirit of politeness and cordiality in her intercourse with her neighbors. We don't expect California to understand us till she quits her conceited notions and becomes willing to acquire a knowledge of the people and country surrounding her. If she only knew it now she could learn something to her advantage by becoming acquainted with Oregon.

H. W. 1860—1868

The fact that the temper which a large portion of the Democratic party manifests at this time bears so striking a resemblance to the spirit it displayed in 1860, has frequently been alluded to of late, and it is a fact which should not be treated as if it were of little moment. The likeness of 1868 to 1860 is so marked that it must arrest the attention of every practical observer. This state of things demands the careful consideration of the people.

The sum of all the arguments used by the Southern Democrats in 1860 was that if they were not permitted to have their way they would secede. The sum of all their arguments in 1868 is that if they are not permitted to have their way they will rebel. It is true they do not declare their intention in language quite so direct as this, but they threaten terrible things, unless the Southern State governments are overthrown, and all that Congress has done for several years past, rescinded. Says the cautious and conservative New York Times, "They claim for themselves a right to regulate the policy of the Republic, to be the judges of its measures and the interpreters of its Constitution, and they threaten a resort to force if their pretensions be repelled." In 1860 they received encouragement from the same quarter. It has been well remarked that "Wade Hampton was reasonable, Cobb civil, and even Toombs doubtful, so long as the spirit and attitude of the Democratic party were a matter of uncertainty. But the Southern politicians who went to New York comparatively rational, returned home with their rebellious aspirations once more rampant." They fully believe they can command their own terms. Now as in 1860, they set themselves above law, and presume to dictate the conditions of their allegiance to the Union. No analogy could be more perfect than that between the temper they manifest now and the spirit they exhibited eight years ago.

The editor of the Herald is so intensely Democratic that he is positively insane on the subject of those "Christian gentlemen," Jefferson Davis and R. E. Lee. He judges every matter that he discusses by their opinions or example, and has no opinions except such as he derives from their authority. Speaking of the action of Rev. Joseph Smith in equalizing himself with "niggers" in time of worship, the editor says: "In joining in the ordinances of the Christian Church with negroes, Mr. Smith did no more than any Christian man does; no more than Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee and thousands of Christian slaveholders throughout the South have done from time immemorial." It is gratifying to know that Rev. Joseph has such high Democratic authority for his action. Otherwise he might have lost his standing in his party. For, to come down to solid fact, isn't there just about as much nigger equality" in what Rev. Joseph Smith did last Sunday as there would be in riding with colored persons in a railroad car?

Apropos of the telegraphic rumors about Secretary Seward, we publish the following significant paragraph from the New York Times, whose editor still maintains the most intimate relations with the Secretary: "What authority has the Providence Journal for classing Secretary Seward among the supporters of Horatio Seymour? What right has it to speak of him as an opponent of the election of Gen. Grant? We hope Mr. Seward will take an early opportunity, in one of those "friendly talks" in which he frequently indulges with the people of Auburn, of defining his position in regard to the present aspect of politics. His voice is yet a power in the State of New York and throughout the country, and his declaration in favor of Grant will tell upon tens of thousands of voters.

The present Congressman from the Ninth District of Illinois is Lewis Ross, a straight Wade Hampton Democrat. He was elected two years ago by a very slender majority. This year the Republican candidate in the same district is Col. L. F. Ross, brother to the present Congressman. When the rebellion broke out Gen. Ross raised a regiment (the Seventeenth Illinois) led it to the front and was afterwards promoted to the command of a brigade. He made a good record during the war, and is in every respect the antipodes of his Copperhead brother.

Southern Matters

AUGUSTA, Sept. 5.—A large Democratic mass meeting was held here to-day. Toombs, General Wright and others made speeches. It is believed their programme is to eject all the objectionable members of the Legislature. Probably several whites will be expelled.

It is evident that the Democrats can do what they please in the Legislature.

ATLANTA, Sept. 5.—The House has passed a resolution that the persons having the next highest number of votes to the expelled members shall be declared members of the House. A resolution was offered, but not acted on, declaring that negroes are not eligible to any office, and declaring vacant all the offices filled by negroes, and forbidding the Governor to issue commissions to negroes when elected.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—A bill has passed the Legislature authorizing the city government of New Orleans to borrow a million dollars for current expenses of the city. The city officials are now endeavoring to negotiate a loan.

Pinchback, the mulatto senator, made a speech in the Senate yesterday charging the people of the city with manifesting a growing disposition to murder men for political opinions and for the color of their skin. He warned them to beware, declaring that the next outrage of the kind would be the signal for a dawn of retribution, which they had not dreamed of. A signal which would cause 10,000 torches to be applied to this city, for patience will have ceased to be a virtue, and the city will be reduced to ashes. He notified the Democratic party that the negroes intend to take the matter in their own hands as they propose to have peace if they have to conquer peace.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 5.—The Arkansas papers say everything is quiet in Conway county. The belligerents had disarmed.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 5.—The recent heavy rains have injured the cotton crop. The news from Middle Georgia is gloomy.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 5.—The militia bill cannot pass the Senate in a shape to satisfy the House and will probably fail altogether.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The trial of Whalen was resumed to-day. Several witnesses were examined all of whose testimony was circumstantial but pointing strongly to Whalen as the perpetrator of the crime. Courtney states that he found Bierley overbearing, insulting, domineering and ignorant of the true method of procedure, so he finds it impossible to get along with him. The examination was then adjourned to the 14th, and Smith, the only party under arrest, was discharged on his own recognizance.

Claflin was nominated by acclamation for Governor. The rest of the ticket is the same as last year, with the exception of Tucker, of Lennox for Lieutenant Governor. It was resolved to base further calls for a convention on the Republican vote of the State instead of the entire vote as now. The resolutions were greeted with cheers. Gen. Butler spoke during the proceedings of the convention. The resolutions offered were brief, endorsed the National platform and declare that the success of the Democrats tends directly to revolution and civil war.

ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 10.—In the House a message arrived from the Governor, enclosing a report of the case of persons application to seats vacated by expelled negroes, which reviewed the constitutional question. It states the right of persons to hold office. Pending the reading, a motion was made to table it as an insult to the House. The motion was not sustained. The following resolution was then introduced:

Resolved, That that portion of the communication from the Governor, reflecting upon the action pending on the eligibility of free persons of color, under the Constitution, be restored to the Governor with the following resolution:

Resolved, That the members of both Houses are judges of what are the qualifications of the members of each House, and not the Governor. They are keepers of their own consciences and not of that of His Excellency.

Each man is served with twenty five rounds of ball cartridges. The prisoner is marched up in a square. The loyalists have declared that if justice is not done they will take Whalen by force and hang him. The public feeling is intense. The medical question is strong that Whalen is the murderer. Seven or seven Head centres from New York are here with money to aid in the defense. They are closely watched. The defense is despondent. Three evening letters have been sent to all the witnesses for the prosecution. One of them was attacked and knocked down with a slung shot.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The trial of Whalen is resumed. The testimony given is highly unfavorable to the prisoner. The case for the prosecution will end to-night. It is supposed the case for the defense will occupy about a week. Little if any testimony at the conclusion of the prisoner's case.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Times publishes a letter from Roebuck, Member of Parliament, justifying and reaffirming the language he used in regard to the United States at the Sheffield Cutler's dinner. The Times administers a severe rebuke to Roebuck, saying that in the public reception given to the representatives of the United States it was the object of all present to cultivate a feeling of good will. It was an injury to both countries for one in Roebuck's position to use language of vehement disparagement, and adds: "We only hope Johnson will notice that the insult has been repudiated by English public opinion with entire unanimity. He may form an idea, however, of the honor in which we hold his country by the prompt recoil from Roebuck's words, he every where witnesses."

Benj. McKay, 19 years of age, was hanged today, within the walls at New Gate, for the murder of his mistress. This is the first private execution in London under the new law.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 8.—The Duke of Brabant's heir to the Crown, is growing worse. It is feared he cannot survive through the night.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The Presse has another editorial regarding the American fleet in Turkish waters. It says that the Russians prompted the demand that the United States war vessels should pass to Dardanelles. It thinks that the sublime Porte is encouraged by the English and French Ministers and will refuse to comply. The Constitutionnel repeats emphatically the reassurance of peace.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Roverdy Johnson delivered a speech at Sheffield, yesterday, in reply to an address presented by the Corporation authorities. Johnson said he anticipated no trouble in the preservation of peaceful relations between the two countries. He complimented Minister Adams in high terms, and said the character of Queen Victoria forbade a possibility of rupture with England. Johnson refuted the assertion of Roebuck, member of Parliament, that the people of the United States were heterogeneous, and he maintained that foreign immigrants were merged into one great nation and that nation is of English extraction.

The Times has a lengthy editorial on Johnson's speech at Sheffield. It thinks the people of the United States as much of a unit as the people of England were when Irish, Scotch, French and Germans make so large a share of the population. It says whatever is the result of the great elections about to occur in England, some reciprocity of feeling between England and the United States is certain to ensue.

"General" Lee certifies in his late manifesto that slavery is dead. This news is about as fresh and exhilarating as the contents of an ancient almanac. Slavery was abolished on the first day of January, 1863, nearly six years ago. It would be more to the point if Lee would certify to the surrendered rebels, by way of a reminder, that their paroles require them to submit to the national authority and obey the laws, and that it would be better in them to do this than to be struggling to get control of the Government and threatening another rebellion.

Gen. Dix the telegraph announces, supports Grant. The General remembers Seymour's conduct in the war times, when he found it necessary to send him the following word: "I have troops enough to take care of the mob and you too."

There is an active and prominent vitality in this remedy which will prove of great benefit to the broken down and shattered constitution. It is the only tonic of which a stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the essential principle of sound rye which is admitted by analytical chemists to be the most harmless of stimulants, and this fluid is refined from the bitter which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer. The other ingredients are compounded of medicinal plants and herbs and contain not one harmful element in all their components.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND Sept 11 1868

New York advices of the 9th quote gold at 144¾. San Francisco Legal Tender rates 65¾@ 66. The wheat market at Liverpool continues declined 6d from the last quotations. At New York Pacific coast wheat is in fair demand at $2 60@2 65. Flour quiet and unchanged.

San Francisco Produce Market Flour no reported changes. Imported Wheat in large supply and declining from $1 75 for poor to $1 95 for choice milling. Barley $2 40@$2 42½. The range of oats is from $3 45@3 65.

In our own Produce Market but few changes are noted. Flour is in good demand at the prices given. The new crop is coming in but in limited quantities and the old being thoroughly exhausted the supply is scarcely up to the demand though before our next report the probabilities are that there will be an increase of the receipts which of late have been light. Wheat new is received in small lots and selling at 90@ 5 cents per bushel. There is an advance of 5 cents per bushel on oats.

The steamship Orgilesame sailed for San Francisco on Tuesday morning with a cargo of assorted produce and full passenger list. The Active for Victoria took a fair cargo among the rest over 6 000 sacks flour. Generally our merchants have been kept steady during the week and complaints of dull times are dying out. Orders from country dealers are more numerous and we might safely say that the fall trade has set in. The commencement of the fall rains which may be expected soon will greatly increase the facilities for river freighting and as a consequence we expect to note great activity in commercial circles. Navigation of the Willamette at present is a matter of great difficulty. No boats have gone beyond Salem for the past week.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND Oregon July 28 1868

As there are a great many people sick and dying of a disease called Cholera Morbus I would call attention to the Chinese Doctor Jim Having eaten green fruit I was taken very bad with the above disease and lay insensible for four hours when Dr Jim was called and in 20 minutes after he gave me a dose of medicine I was easy and so on. I feel sure that there is no other Doctor in the world that could have relieved me as he did and I never will forget Dr Jim did

EXTINGUISHER PORTABLE

SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in their instantaneous manner than has hitherto been discovered

The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows

Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand

The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.

It is always ready for use though standing unused for years

It puts out Fire instantly

It saves the great wastage of water now used for this purpose

It is as effective in the hands of a boy as the most experienced Fireman

It is portable, and as easily handled as a bucket of water

It contains within itself the power of a force pump and as effective as a Steam Engine

It is the only known Invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar Naphtaline and combustible materials now in common use
